Chief Justice of the Wyoming Supreme Court Michael K. Davis today announced the successful completion of its first fully remote robing ceremony for newly appointed Circuit Court Judge Sean Chambers. Judge Chambers presides in the First Judicial District in Laramie County. “We are pleased with the success of our first remote robing ceremony,” said Chief Justice Michael Davis. “While we look forward to returning to overflowing courtrooms for these ceremonies when it is safe to do so, we are fully committed to observing social distancing to maintain the safety of our court personnel, the friends and family of the new judge and the public at large,” Davis added. “The Wyoming Supreme Court has been able to continue its work despite the closure, thanks to our excellent IT staff and the ability to work remotely.”
